THE VERA PROJECT

BRAND BOOK

DESCRIPTION

THE VERA PROJECT is a Seattle-based, volunteer-run nonprofit organization that promotes community engagement in music and the arts. Welcoming people of all-ages, the VERA community hosts a variety of programs, such as concerts and workshops, in light of fostering a "participatory creative culture".

Communication Goals

INCLUSION

VERA welcomes humans of all ages and backgrounds, with a focus on youngsters ages 14 to 24. Developing a welcoming community becomes essential in engaging people in VERA's programs.

CREATIVE EXPERIMENTATION

VERA encourages artistic experimentation: to draw outside the lines and express their creativity outside of convention.

COMMUNITY EMPOWERMENT

VERA povides the tools and foundation necessary for people to pursue their creative passions in a professional setting.

LOGO

This logo embodies VERA's core values of inclusion, creative experimentation, and empowerment.

Inclusion is demonstrated through color choice and the geometric form. The rainbow color palette and how the V is formed by a variety of shapes nods to the value of diversity and welcoming all backgrounds to the VERA.

Creative experimentation shows through the energetic, rainbow color expression. The V's imperfect geometric makeup also hints to the idea that the making art is about experimenting and learning from the process.

Community empowerment can be seen by looking at the single shapes as building blocks. This represents VERA as a community built of individuals supporting one another.

VARIATIONS

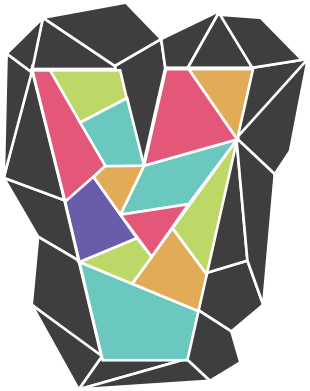
The logo was designed to be easily reproduced in other formats, depending on the context.

Other materials could include: banners, posters, flyers, t-shirts, stickers, labels.

Keep the following in mind when reproducing:

1. Placing the logo in front of a neutral-colored background (black/white/gray) is acceptable.

2. Gaps should exist between the individual shapes



COLOR

The color palette conveys a youthful energy that represents THE VERA PROJECT brand.

Instead of using the traditional rainbow color palette, we use a hue variation. Colors must be used at full saturation and at the specified value. This array of colors are meant to be used as accents, such as buttons, links, and icons.

Black, white, and gray are for general use. Black will be used for body text, headers, and navigation. White is the primary background color, especially for large bodies of text; however, it should be used as the text color for buttons. Greyscale will be used to create emphasis and hierarchy.

TYPOGRAPHY

ORATOR STD MEDIUM

This is the font used for main headers, navigation, buttons, icons, and any other graphical element. This is not to be used for body text.

A A

Orator STD Medium is a relatively tall and thin, all-upper-case sans-serif font. It also holds a certain artsy, handdrawn quality that is suitable for its brand. It's uniqueness makes it great for headers. It also reminds me of tall, brooding hipsters.

Segoe UI

This is the font used for body text and subheaders. This can also be used for pull quotes or for anything in need of bold emphasis.

Aa

Segoe UI is a clean and readable sans-serif font. It offers different weight and posture variations, which is helpful in creating emphasis and contrast when needed. Use Black only for pull quotes or anything with a large graphic element; it is not for use in body text.

1 GO TO A VOLUNTEER ORIENTATION.

Learn about Vera's history and all of our different programs and services and meet other volunteers that you will be working with. Our Steering committee members who lead these orientations can help you answer all of your 'what's next?' questions to get you on the right path.

Generally, orientations are the 2nd Thursday of the month at 6pm (unless there's a Members' Meeting) and the 2nd Saturday of the month at 4pm. Check our calendar to make sure you'll be in the right place at the right time.

There's no registration necessary – just show up! Orientations are usually less than an hour in length.

Email volunteer@theveraproject.org if you have questions.

IMAGES

ICONS

Icons represent the various programs and activities offered by VERA. Alike the logo, icons take on geometric-building-block characteristics, with a sizable gap in between each shape. They are in grey here but can be used in any color picked from the color palette. They can also use all 5 rainbow colors, similar to the logo.

PHOTOS

All images used should be in black and white in order to help accent colors stand out.

The website header uses this black and white photo (after-edit) with a decreased brightness and contrast. These edits dull the image, which serves to emphasize the vibrant logo that is placed in the front and center.

All other photos should make use of the signature, blocky geometric, cutout pattern. Incorporating this element into every photo aids the design coherence of the website. There is no specific stencil; each cutout can vary.

IMAGES

ILLUSTRATIONS

Custom-drawn graphic elements play a vital role in the VERA site as they communicate the values of creativity and do-it-yourself. Illustrations add a playful, youthful vibe to the design as well.

Graphics and illustrations will be mainly used to frame and border content (text and photos)- both as subtle background elements and as bold forefront emphasis. Illustrations are used to highlight current page, large buttons, emphasis headers, and frame body text.

All graphics employ the building block quality of the logo. Only straight-edged, geometric shapes are suitable.

Being on this list helps you stay current on everything Vera: volunteer opportunities; big news; internship announcements; cool programs that partner organizations offer; even job openings for music, youth, and activist organizations are posted here. This list is not used for promotion of shows that aren't Vera related or for bands' PR lists.

You can also feel free to write any questions you have to the list and someone nice will respond to you.

3 SIGN UP AND VOLUNTEER ALREADY!

Alright, you're all set to volunteer!

What are you interested in?

Click on one of the following to get more specifics on each:

If you're interested in getting involved with our Programming and Steering Committees, read the next bonus step…

4 BECOME A MEMBER.

After you've volunteered a while you can decide if you're interested in being more involved with the Vera Project by becoming a voting Member.

Members of the Vera Project lead and govern Vera in collaboration with Vera's Board. Members help create and review programs, raise money, promote events, and make the decisions that determine Vera's future. As a Member you run the show (collaboratively speaking, that is).
